

What an amazing 6 months these last few have been! These months have been filled with crazy new experiences for both of us, good and bad ones. We have both changed in that time. We make each other laugh, smile, and feel things that we've never felt before. Normally I would give you this in writing, but because it wouldn't get to you in time, so this will have to do :) And forgive me, Im not very good at writing feelings down :P

I'm sending you on a little scavenger hunt for this gift :P

Rules: To get the answer you take the first letter of the answer you got (example: answer is dog, you get the letter D). Keep track of these letters!

Questions:

- 1) Where did we go on our first date:
- 2) What was the main color of your tent on the MV trip:
- 3) What was the main color of your flannel on our first date:
- 4) What did you get from sitting with me on the car ride to the aquarium (I got you seltzer to help):
- 5) What animals were in front of the place we first kissed:
- 6) What were we looking at the second time we kissed (we were the same height)
- 7) What has been my favorite thing about these last few months (think from my perspective)

Now take these letters, and fill in the blanks with them :)
